

NEXT PATIENT PLEASE

GIVE A LITTLE SMILE

1. small talk will you ever hear the words that we talk will you ever care for the way we walk will you ever listen to the things that we say so you really think you're good enough do ya, to lead the way will you ever see the fears in our faces will you be able to make all those changes will you really care no – i don't think so buddy will you really lead the right way to go to the promised land, only you seem to know will you really treat your people kind or is it only money and might; on your stupid pokerface will you tell us the price that we pay if you get our votes today

all you do is talk, talk, talk you promise us thick and thin talk, talk, talk – where should our trust begin talk, talk, talk – you promise us thick and thin
where should our trust begin

2. give a little smile

look at the children right over there the playground is damaged and nobody cares see the children sitting over there none of them laughing and nobody cares still nobody cares – how about you look at the old man right over there his bottle is empty but nobody cares look at those tired eyes over there he's lost his future but nobody cares still nobody cares – so what about you so give a little smile, 'cause every little smile will make them laugh again look at the young girl standing there she's lost her love, nobody cares look at the mirror staring back at you do you lose your smile does anyone care – care about you

3. little giant paint me a picture of your dreams why didn't you sleep last night whatever caused the tears on your pillow i'll protect you, from your nightmares set me your fears in colour to show me how you feel so very fragile to touch this pure and naked soul of a child oh, you little giant – you turn my world upside down oh, you little giant – you make my world spinning around oh, you little giant – you turn my world upside down

and turning around – and spinning around if you ever will be driven to tears we will laugh these tears away if school of life is hard to take you can lean on my shoulders monsters come crawling up the floor creatures of the night micky mouse is at your door bad men will take good dreams away butterflies will bring them back and now they are here to stay

4. the right time (to fall in love again) there's something in the air tonight – i can't resist a feeling in the air tonight – that i've missed the flames in my heart are growing they're gonna light a fire i know it's you girl – only you can cool my desire there's something that i feel tonight – i've missed so long love is in the air tonight – this time it can't be wrong i feel the warm winds ablowing – i feel like melting ice come on and take my hand girl and don't think twice it's the right time to fall in love again no better time to fall in love it's the right time to fall in love again with you there's something in the air tonight i can't resist a feeling in the air tonight that i've missed the flames in my heart are growing burning with desire i know it's you girl you set my heart on fire set my heart on fire

5. nothing can mend a broken heart (but love) that fateful night you took that australian flight it was a nightmare within a dream, like in trance i asked myself: will there ever be a second chance i hear a voice – uh it's calling me back to you oh i hear a voice – ooh it's calling me ... now my emotions are free falling like a rocket through that open space i feel your physical presence – you fill that empty place believe me – you are still my dream believe me – you are still my dream so now you're back, but still i'm missing you will i ever forget the pain let your new love be my medicine please heal my heart again

believe me – it's all true believe me – i do still love you nothing can mend a broken heart nothing can mend a broken dream but love

6. how will they know when i was a young boy my teachers used to tell me hey young man, don't do this and don't do that listen to what we teach you it's the golden rules of life and i listened and i learned then i met my first girlfriend oh yeah, ... i loved her so and all my friends were jealous, they said "hey she's no good for you" just remember what society says about the golden rules of life so i had to let her go completely helpless how will they know, how i feel inside of my heart how will they know, what is tearing me apart how will they know, my troubles and my dreams so now that i'm old enough to read between the lines still they try to teach me their golden rules of life everyone else knows better than me livin' in a fake society so you see the world keeps changing, it won't die out

7. land of plenty

we all love our lives – we all live to love

i remember our early days we were young and wild and free every little kiss – every little touch at your side i wanted to be and all the love we used to share will shine on every day the love we'll give will shine anew will shine anew

hey – don't you know the land of plenty, just open up your heart – and soon you'll be there hey – don't you know the land of plenty,
just open up your heart – and soon you'll be there when the winds are rough we will hold each other warm together we'll see the land of plenty together we'll weather the storm and let us build our love big and strong 'cause a deep true love just can't be wrong love can't be wrong don't you know the land of plenty

8. do you still believe in me

do you still believe in me – after all these years

no, i never wanted to hurt you, i didn't want to desert you, but i said some words that really hurt deep inside no, you never wanted to hurt me, didn't want to desert me, so in the night i cried of wanting you sometimes i'm really like a child if things ain't my way, it's driving me wild but then you stop my rage with your disarming smile with a little kick you put me on the floor again – again sometimes i want to run away, if life's too hard to bear – no reason left to stay then i take you in my arms and hold you tight, and with a little love you really make my day – my day you say, you believe in me i still believe in you and for that i love you

9. if i just get through the night now i'm driving down this ol' french highway the engine's running endless through the night feels like being in the middle of nowhere hope i make it home before it gets light now a vision of you crosses my mind i take the mobile and call you up damn no answer – maybe you're still asleep i think i'm in too deep i will tell you that i love you

i will tell you that i want you too

will someone turn that radio off, that's beatin' in my head tomorrow is just another day now i'm feeling bitterly cold will someone give me a hold tomorrow is just another day

i want to tell you all my sorrows i want to show you all my charms tomorrow is just another day whatever it takes i'll give everything if i'm ever in your arms tomorrow is just another day

10. you better go on he's known as the clown, but sometimes he hates to be it the circus is his life and the laughter of the public eye his loan so he's wearing the mask from town to town playing the clown even though when inside he's crying and circumstances are bringing him down lying down in his bed a single tear rolls over his face he closes his eyes and in his dream he hears his father say:

you better, better, better go on for the show tonight
listen to what i tell you. go out and please don't cry you can make them laugh better than i ever did so go out and try ...

he makes them laugh and he makes them sing when he's smiling he turns their winters to spring his show is the best of the world and there he's the king still knowing that a clown is funny; yes he has to be
